For many beauty and health enthusiasts it is becoming clearer, when it comes to skincare, avoiding harsh chemicals and instead using classic herbal methods is the smart direction to take. In that spirit, new natural and organic skincare brand Urthmos is answering the call. Urthmos uses a base of Traditional Chinese Medicine and Ayurveda herbs, all the highest quality and ethically sourced. They are focused on bringing health and beauty to mature and sensitive skin. Shoppers have met the new brand and its direction with enthusiasm.

“We are happy to offer the soft luxurious side of Mother Nature here at Urthmos,” commented a spokesperson from the brand. “The effects can be dramatic while remaining completely safe, natural and organic. Try Urthmos and its easy to see the big difference firsthand.”

Currently, two collections from the brand are available, the “Age Gracefully Collection” and the “Sensitive Skin & Skin Restoration Collection”, with the latest “China Rose Collection” planned to debut later in 2020. All are crafted with the same meticulous attention to detail, and premium vegan-friendly ingredients to help ensure complete quality control and customer satisfaction.

According to Urthmos, highlights of its most popular products include “The 7 Goddesses Serum”; “Tremellahari Facial Cream”; “Cong Gen Sensitive Skin Cream”; “Exotica Facial Toner”; and “Amor Luxur Facial Cleanser”, to name just a few.

The brand has won praise with shoppers of all ages, being credited with helping mature skin look and feel more youthful with mature users, while also giving a vibrant glow, boosting self-esteem with younger users interested in celebrating their budding beauty. This versatility is a testament to its time-tested, traditional ingredients in the brand's developer's opinion, something which sets it apart from nearly all its competitors, large or small.

All orders of $60 and more even ship for free. The company is happy to offer wholesale rates for those who would like to keep Urthmos products and collections in stock in their own quality-focused shop and spas.

Early customers have been consistently passionate with their endorsements of Urthmos. This points to a very bright future for the emerging brand as its message is quickly spreading both online and off, fueled by remarkable feedback.

Ann, from New York, recently said in a five-star review, "I can use a gel based hyaluronic acid infused moisturizer along with a thick moisturizer on top of ceramides, topped off with pure Argan Oil and still not achieve the level of hydration, smoothness, and silkiness the my skin wakes up to in the morning when I just use the 7 Goddesses Serum Alone. It's just THAT GOOD!"
